THE JONES SILVER BILL.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION,
IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES,
February 25, 1890.

Mr. Jones, of Nevada, from the Committee on Finance, reported the following:

A bill to authorize the purchase of gold and silver bullion and the issue of Treasury notes in payment therefor.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby directed to purchase from time to time silver bullion to the aggregate amount of four million five hundred thousand dollars worth in each month, at the market price thereof, not exceeding one dollar for three hundred and seventy-one and twenty-five hundredths grains of pure silver, and also to purchase of such gold bullion as may be offered at the Treasury or any sub-Treasury of the United States at a price not exceeding one dollar for twenty-three and two hundredths grains of pure gold, and to issue in payment for such purchase of silver and gold bullion, Treasury notes to be prepared by the Secretary of the Treasury, in such form and of such denominations, not less than one dollar nor more than one thousand dollars, as he may prescribe; and a sum sufficient to carry into effect the provisions of this Act is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 2. That the Treasury notes issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act, shall be redeemable on demand, in lawful money of the United States, at the Treasury of the United States, or at the office of any Assistant Treasurer of the United States; and shall be receivable for customs, taxes and all public dues, and when so received may be reissued; and such notes when held by any National Banking Association may be counted as a part of its lawful reserve.

Sec. 3. That the Secretary of the Treasury may coin such portion of the gold or silver bullion purchased under the provisions of this Act as may be necessary to provide for the redemption of the Treasury notes herein provided for, and any gain or seigniorage arising from such coinage shall be accounted for and paid into the Treasury.

Sec. 4. That the gold and silver bullion purchased under the provisions of this Act shall be subject to the requirements of existing law, and the regulations of the Mint service, governing the methods of determining the amount of pure gold or pure silver contained, and the amount of charges or deductions, if any, to be made.

Sec. 5. That so much of the Act of February 28, 1878, entitled "An Act to authorize the coinage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal tender character," as requires "the monthly purchase and coinage of the same into silver dollars of not less than $2,000,000 nor more than $4,000,000 worth of silver bullion," is hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. This Act shall take effect thirty days from and after its passage.

The bill was placed on the calendar.

The Senate Finance Committee has been for some time discussing the silver question. The JOURNAL publishes above a copy of the measure which Senator Jones has reported from the committee.

It is not all that the free-coinage men would like, but it is a very good measure as it stands, and, if it becomes a law, will not only revivify the mining industry of the West, but will give a healthy stimulus to every industry in every section of the country. The JOURNAL regards it as practically equivalent to free coinage, because the purchase of four and a half millions of silver each month will require the entire product of the mines of the United States, and will, in our judgment, bring silver to par within a very short time.

This bill is one originating in the committee, and not one that has been referred to it. As our readers will see, the proposition is very simple and easily understood. It is positive and mandatory in its terms, and leaves nothing to the "discretion" of the Executive Department. It requires the purchase of $4,500,000 of silver bullion each month, and such gold bullion as may be presented. This, so far as it goes, places silver and gold on equality—both being treated as commodities. The payment, for the silver as well as for the gold, is to be by Treasury notes redeemable in the "lawful money of the United States," thus doing away with the discrimination heretofore made against silver by the laws which require payment for that metal in certificates redeemable only in silver. The silver bullion is to be paid for at the market rate, but not to exceed one dollar for every 371 25-100 grains of pure silver (that being the equivalent of 412 1/2 grains of standard silver, nine-tenths fine). The Treasury notes whose issue is provided for are made receivable for "customs, taxes and all public dues."

It is really an excellent bill, and will, we believe, become a law, with little if any modification. When time enough shall have elapsed for its effects to be realized, the gold men will be astonished at its good results, and will in a year or two be perfectly willing to assist in the passage of a free-coinage bill.

There are many Eastern members of Congress who are as yet afraid of free-coinage, but who would help us pass a bill such as is outlined. There is besides, an indirect but plain and positive intimation that the President would veto a free-coinage bill. The silver men cannot, of course, accept the Windom proposition without eliminating the provision which would give to any person who might for the time being occupy the office of Secretary of the Treasury, the power to suspend, at his discretion, the purchase of silver. Without that clause the bill would not be acceptable to its framers; and, in case it succeeded in getting through both Houses of Congress, would fail for want of Executive approval. It would then be too late to discuss, as fully as would be necessary, any measure that might be proposed in its stead. In such case, the people would be left without recourse until after another long debate at a later session of Congress; and, in the present condition of business, a failure to act now would be fraught with peril to the industries of the country.

The addition which the committee bill will make to the volume of money in circulation will give new life to every industry, and under its operation we may predict for the United States an era of prosperity such as has not been experienced for many years.

Paymaster General.

The Washington Sunday Herald says: There are good reasons to believe that the President has about concluded to satisfy the evident wish of the army by selecting the Senior Officer of the Pay Department for the Paymaster General and the records of the several candidates, it is understood have been thoroughly scanned at the White House, and although they present a creditable statement of long and faithful service, none of the candidates present a claim of such superior merit as to overcome that of the Senior Officer, Colonel Rodney Smith, and his promotion to the office of Paymaster General would work a wider and immediate benefit in the promotion of juniors. The selection of a junior would delay the promotion all along the line.

Senator and Mrs. Jones Entertain.

A Washington dispatch says Senator and Mrs. J. P. Jones entertained a company of 20 at dinner last Saturday night. Among those present were Senator and Mrs. Culum, Senator and Mrs. Hawley, Senator and Mrs. Sherman, Senator and Mrs. Manderson, Mr. and Mrs. Sloes, of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Kohl, General Miles, Senator Farwell, the French Minister, Miss Holliday and Miss O'Connor. The table was laid in the picture gallery of the house. The center-piece was a mass of maiden-hair fern flanked by mounds of yellow daffodils.

A Boston dispatch says the operations on General Ben Butler's famous eyelid, mentioned in these dispatches a couple of weeks ago, has proved entirely successful, and has left the eye completely restored. The General's right eye, too, has been developing of late years a drooping lid on a miniature scale. It is now valued more than the left eye, and will probably be made the object of another operation in the near future.

The Carson Tribune mentions W. O. H. Martin for State Treasurer. Mr. Martin is not a candidate for any office, and would not accept the Treasurership under any circumstances. If Mr. Martin would consent to run he would be an exceedingly available man to head the Republican State ticket.

Colonel Oohiltree had a box party at the opera of "The Gondoliers," at Washington last Friday night. His guests were Senator and Mrs. John P. Jones, of Nevada, Mrs. Horace Hill, Miss Maud O'Connor and Miss Holiday, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Stanford, wife of the wealthy Senator from California, is having her portrait painted by a lady artist. There is no doubt but that the latter will receive a handsome recompense for her labor.

OPPOSED BY THE PRESIDENT.

The Administration Antagonistic to the Jones Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—It is expected that the Urgent Deficiency bill which the House passed on Saturday will pass the Senate next week. It contains a clause providing for a $450,000 appropriation to make up the deficiency in the San Francisco Postoffice Site bill.

This will avoid the necessity of a special bill to erect the building, as all further appropriations will be provided in the regular appropriation bills.

It is claimed here that President Harrison is using every endeavor to prevent a favorable consideration of the Silver bill which was reported by the Finance Committee to the Senate, and which was drawn by Senator Jones, of Nevada.

Several Senators have been summoned to the White House and urged to try and push Secretary Windom's measure. This bill, however, the silver men are confident can never receive serious consideration.

The Pacific Coast Senators are confident that the Jones bill will go through, despite the Administration opposition.

The Iron Workers Strike.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—The most important point of the iron works strike to-day, was the strike of the apprentices. About thirty of them, in accordance with the desires of the Iron Moulders' Union, walked out of a majority of the fourteen foundries in which the strikers are interested. Seventy-five core-makers were also out of work this morning, they having refused to go to work during the strike and thus embarrassed many of the manufacturers who hoped to continue business on a small scale notwithstanding the moulders' position.

The Nagle Matter Before the Supreme Court.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Supreme Court chamber was filled to-day with an audience which listened attentively to the arguments in Nagle's case, arising out of the shooting of Judge David Terry last Summer. All the Justices were present except Judge Field. The argument was opened by Zachary Montgomery, in behalf of appellant, Sheriff Cunningham, from whose jurisdiction Nagle was discharged on a writ of habeas corpus, issued by the United States Court on the ground that he was a United States Deputy Marshal, engaged in the performance of his duty and could not be imprisoned by State authorities. Montgomery said it was contention of State authority, that the sole question before the court was the jurisdiction alone, and therefore all questions of Nagle's guilt or innocence were irrelevant. He reviewed the leading points in the evidence and maintained that unless there were specific statutory authority for his release by the United States Circuit Court. If it were true that the act was justifiable homicide necessary for the protection of Justice Field, there need not be any fear that the State would not acquit him. But this was for the State to decide.

Attorney General Miller, who followed on behalf of the United States, said he would base his argument on two propositions: First, that it is the duty of the Executive Department to protect the Judiciary of the Government. Second, that under the Constitution the Judiciary being in obedience to the Executive, only the Judiciary Department had a right to sit in judgment on the acts of its officials in performing their duties in accordance with the Constitution. He quoted from the words of Secretary Bayard that the inherent right of the Government to enact and enforce the laws gives it power to protect its servants in their execution. The Attorney General argued his case upon this line. The proposition advanced on the part of the State was a heresy as old as the Government which has been refuted times without number in the courts, in Congress and upon battle fields. It was this same argument that the Executive had no power except such as was specifically granted by the Legislative Department that had been used before the civil war to deny the power of the Government to coerce the seceding States. Justice Bradley interrupted the Attorney General in the course of his remarks with the question: "With what force shall the President execute this power of protection of which you speak, supposing the Marshal had not sufficient force for the purpose?"

Attorney General—"With a posse in the first instance, and after, if that is not sufficient, with the army and navy." Justice Bradley—"Then he has the right to aid all citizens of the United States in maintaining the laws and protecting the institutions of the Government."

Joseph Shoate, of New York, one of the counsel for the Government, opened with a statement that ever since the beginning of the Government the people of the United States had rested with the conviction that within its limits the Government was sovereign and supreme, and that it had within itself all the powers and facilities to fulfill its own functions and accomplish its own purposes. In doing this the Government was not subject to hindrance or interference by any power whatever. For the first time in an hundred years, the public were now met with the startling contention that a Justice of the highest court of the land was not entitled to the protection of the Government in going from one place to another on his circuit.

Cheate had not concluded his arguments when the court adjourned.

An Estate in Trouble.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—The executors of the estate of E. Wertheimer, deceased, a member of the firm of L. and E. Wertheimer, wholesale tobacco and cigar dealers, of this city, applied for a Receiver to-day to protect the interests of the estate, the New York branch of the firm, which is managed by L. Wertheimer, having become involved through the latter's operations on account of a brewery in which he is solely interested. L. Wertheimer's losses are said to be $250,000, but it is understood he has satisfactorily arranged with his creditors, and that the business of the tobacco firm, which is rated as worth $1,000,000, will not be affected.

A Miner Killed.

Special to the JOURNAL.

VIRGINIA, March 4.—Al. Ballard, a miner in the Yellow Jacket, was fatally injured this morning. Going down the shaft of the mine he had an iron bar on the cage with him. The bar slid out, caught in the timbers of the shaft and he and the other end was driven through Ballard's stomach. He is alive yet but cannot last long.

A Railroad Cut War.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—Every railway agent in the city, having any interest whatever in the lines leading from the Missouri River to Chicago, was to-day quoting reduced overland rates to the East, telegraphed yesterday. It is widely believed that greater cuts must follow soon, and no prospective traveller seems disposed to waste money by paying too much for tickets. The feeling results in injuring instead of improving local business. Railway men here, however, believe that a general rate war will be prevented by the influence of New York bankers who hold many railroad securities and do not desire to see a fight that will reduce their revenue.

The Trunk Line Passenger Committee to-day decided to quote transcontinental or through rates based on the cut made daily west of Chicago.

Postal Telegraph.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—D. H. Bates, of New York, representing, as he said, a number of gentlemen interested in postal telegraphy, addressed the House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads on that subject this morning. The rate he would suggest on a new telegraph company doing all of the service except collecting and delivery, and including operators, would be, under 500 miles, 15 cents; above 500 miles and east of the Mississippi, 25 or 30; west of the Mississippi, 25 or 30; between the 85th and 105th parallel, 25 or 30 cents, with 50 cents as a maximum.

The Gentle Rain.

Special to the JOURNAL.

MARYSVILLE, March 1.—Since early this morning there has been a constant down-pour and the indications are that it will rain all night. The Yuba and other rivers have commenced to rise slowly, having been at a low stage. Telegrams from the mountains state that a warm rain has been falling on the snow along the tributary streams of the Yuba.

Senator Allison Re-elected.

Special to the JOURNAL.

DES MOINES, March 4.—In the Senate this afternoon the election of United States Senator was taken up. A roll call resulted: Allison, 28; Bestow, 20; Larrabee, 2. Allison was declared elected on the part of the Senate. As Allison was elected in both Houses to-day, it will not be necessary to have an election to-morrow.

Raining on the Mountains.

Special to the JOURNAL.

TRUCKEE, March 4.—Rain has fallen steadily all over the mountains during the past 24 hours. The snow has settled nearly half its depth in Truckee. If the storm continues avalanches and land slides are feared.

A Ditch Extension.

Special to the JOURNAL.

MARYSVILLE, March 4.—The Excelsior Water and Mining Company have decided to bring their ditches down into the very lowest foothills on the south side of the Yuba river.

Down the Ohio.

Special to the JOURNAL.

CINCINNATI, March 4.—The flood in the Ohio river is an event of the past. Navigation has been practically restored and business by the river proceeds as usual.

In Memoriam.

RENO, Nev., Feb. 25, 1890

To the officers of Nevada Lodge No. 3020, Knights of Honor.

BROTHERS—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our deceased brother, John George Becker, beg leave to submit the following:

WHEREAS, The Supreme Dictator of the universe, in His wisdom, has removed from our midst our honored treasurer, John George Becker, Therefore, be it

Resolved, That in his death our Lodge has sustained the loss of one who was a brother indeed. A Knight of Honor in spirit and truth. Whose every day life was devoted to the practice of the principles of the Order. That his fidelity to every trust reposed in him by the Knights of Honor has been of the most conscientious character. To the performance of which duties he devoted his intelligence, time and patience, with unremitting zeal, contesting vigorously for right, and yielding no points where principle might be compromised. That his opinions upon matters relating to the Knights of Honor generally were full of wisdom and good judgment.

Resolved, That while to us comes sorrow and heartfelt grief, to him has come recompense of a faithful life, of duty performed, and rest in the Grand Lodge above where grief and pain are unknown and death can never more enter.

Resolved, That in our deep sorrow, we unite with his bereaved family, and seeking consolation for ourselves, would remember them, realizing the fact that their protector and friend has gone, and we trust that the Supreme Dictator of the universe will comfort you and give you consolation in this, your trying hour.

MORRIS ABE,
S. EMMICH,
P. H. MULCAHY,
Committee.

Rev. Fisher Sick.

Rev. C. L. Fisher, who has been in Burlington, Vermont, during the past few months, and who has been supplying the Baptist Church there, was prostrated by a severe attack of heart disease a few days since, and is still suffering from it. His brother cannot forecast results, but is hoping for his recovery. If Providence favors he may return to his home in Reno after a few weeks.

Mrs. Leonard Dead.

The many friends of the family will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Judge O. R. Leonard, at Sacramento, yesterday morning. She was an estimable lady in every respect, and her loss will be a severe blow to the Judge, to whom, in this moment of despair, the sympathy of all will be extended.

Taking Out Rich Ore.

The Silver State says McManis & Gunter are taking out ore worth $600 to $800 a ton from their mine in Winnemucca Mountain. They purchased the mine of A. D. Wilcox last Fall, and though the vein is not large it is very rich.

POLITICAL TALK.

Speculations by the Carson Tribune Man.

The Carson Tribune says W. O. H. Martin, of Washoe, is looming up prominently for State Treasurer.

One who pretends to know says Elko county will present the name of Lawyer George Tabbot for Attorney General. With Alexander, Ferguson, and Talbot in the race a lively contest may be expected in the Republican Convention.

A Virginia man informed a Tribune reporter yesterday that the talk was "W. E. Sharon as Republican candidate for Governor." "But," he continued, "I think the Democrats are doing all the talking, believing that if Sharon receives the nomination he will be the easiest to defeat."

Many believe ex-Congressman will wrestle with Hawley for the Republican nomination for Supreme Judge.

Sam Davis would like to ride into Donner's berth on the pro lottery band wagon.

Very strong efforts are being made by the men who have the interests of the State at heart to induce Hallock to again make the race for State Controller.

The lawyers are unanimous for Bicknell for the Supreme Clerk. Nobody can doubt Charley in a race before the people.

So far Joe Harlow is the only man mentioned for Lieutenant Governor.

It begins to look as if Survey or General Jones will have a walk-over for renomination.

Messrs. Rising, Bigelow and Wells are all anxious to succeed themselves as District Judges.

For State Printer Joe Eckley, of Storey, F. W. Fairbanks, of Lyon, and Will Taylor, of Ormsby, are freely talked of.

Not much stock is taken in the statement that Newlands will contest with Bartine for the Congressional nomination.

Many are of the opinion that Senator M. D. Foley has the gubernatorial bee buzzing in his bonnet.

Three Breaks in One of the Company's Flumes—A Tough Time in the Mountains—Avalanche After Avalanche—Men Working Night and Day.

The Enterprise, of Tuesday, says Three snowfalls have broken the lower flumes of the Water Company's system from Marlette Lake to Virginia City, and have kept the employees of the company on a keen jump for the past week.

The difficulties surmounted by the men are not readily imagined. The first and most extensive break occurred between the tunnel and Hobart Creek, where the snow was packed 53 feet deep. The locality of the break was ascertained by a man crawling in the 30 inch flume a distance of 60 feet. They were away several miles from supplies, and everything had to be brought up by men on snow shoes. A cut 43 feet deep was shoveled and six 18-foot boxes had to be repaired. This work was completed at 11 o'clock Sunday night.

Yesterday men were put to work repairing two new breaks, one not far from the six mile reservoir, and the other between Hobart Creek and the tanks for supply purposes.

The mill and town supply is now all right, and it is expected that the supply for motive power will be repaired by this evening. If they succeed in this, the Nevada mill will resume crushing ore to-morrow.

The supply of water on hand for fire and town purposes stored in the big reservoir and in the tanks on the hillside is sufficient to last 12 days. The supply for fire purposes is always the first consideration, and the timid may rest easy on that score.

Theater Saturday Night.

Of the excellent company to appear here next Saturday evening a Boise City paper of a late date says

"The appearance of the 'Social Session' Company in Sonoma's Opera House Monday evening was greeted by a full house, which would have been crowded to the point of suffocation, could the people of Boise have been certain of what was in store for those who witnessed this really splendid musical entertainment. Of the performance Monday night it is impossible here to write in detail, but it suffices to say that it proved all that had been anywhere claimed for previous appearances of the company, and that it gave perfect satisfaction and unbounded delight. It is always real pleasure to be able to speak in terms of commendation and praise of a company of real talent and high merit. Such a company is this genuinely musical and laughter-provoking combination known as the 'Social Session.' Leaving out all that the stage offered for the delectation of the audience, the musical performances of the orchestra alone were worth far more than the price of admission. This was the first time in the history of Boise that the best efforts of an orchestra have proved sufficient to content an audience and prevent any signs of impatience during the intervals between acts, but the orchestra Monday evening did all this and much more, so enchanted the audience that even the gods forgot there was a curtain concealing and delaying the splendid scenes that lay behind it."

Sets on sale at Nasby's new store, on Second street, in First National Bank building.

Not So Very Gloomy.

The Modoc Independent remarks.

We believe to take it altogether that Modoc county is coming out in better condition than any other county in the State, and, as one of our friends remarked not long ago, "it is head and shoulders above any other part of the State to-day." True, we have had a very severe winter, and there has been some loss of stock, but compared with other sections, the loss here sinks into insignificance. What makes the outlook the more cheerful is the fact that the winter seems to have broken up so early, and it is the general belief that the worst is over, and the men that a few weeks ago believed that the heaviest losses would come in March and April, now feel that there will not be any material loss in those months, for the grass is growing, and there is still plenty of hay to feed till the outside feed is good. They can turn stock on the ranges at an early day, and they will soon be rolling fat. There is every promise of good crops this year and there will be no end to the grass on the hills. We believe these facts will be appreciated all over the country, and that Modoc county will see many newcomers this year.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work costs you nothing.

A Little Boy Badly Injured.

Dr. Harmony, of Wadsworth, was in town last night, and from him the JOURNAL learns of a very serious accident to the 5-year old son of J. M. Sanford, which happened at Ragtown, Churchill county, Monday afternoon. The little fellow was getting into a buggy, when the horse started up, and the boy's right leg was caught between the spokes and wrenched so badly that the femur bone was disjunct and extended out six inches from the leg. Amputation is absolutely necessary, and it is feared the little fellow may not live through it. Dr. Bergstein will go to Wadsworth this morning to assist Dr. Harmony.
